FREDRICK REMUND JR.
AND ANNA ELFREDA
JASPERSON REMUND

Son of Fredrick Remund Sr., and Anne Elizabeth Ott. Born May 6, 1877, Richfield, Utah. Married (1) Alice Sulser November 1898. (2) Anna Elfreda Jaspersen October 25, 1905. Died December 17, 1944, Midway.

Alice Sulser, daughter of John and Mary M. Keller Sulser. Born August 1, 1880, in Midway. Died July 29, 1900.

Anna Elfreda Jaspersen, daughter of Lars Jaspersen and Augusta Weinike Jaspersen. Born May 26, 1876, in Ephraim. Died January 2, 1960.

Frederick Remund Jr., came with his family to Midway, in 1882. He spent all of his life there.

He attended public school, but when he was fifteen years old, his father was called on a mission to Switzerland. Fred was the oldest son so assumed the responsibility of taking care of the farm and the family. Fred also fulfilled a mission to Switzerland.

Fred was an excellent farmer. His certified seed potatoes were always in demand.

He was active in the church, serving as superintendent of the Sunday School and in other capacities. He was a loyal supporter of the town of Midway, and the schools. He managed basketball teams for the town and church. He helped in completing the road on the Memorial Hill.

Alice Sulser Remund died in childbirth. She was a beautiful and promising young lady. She bore a high record, was active in YLMIA and Sunday School. "She was deeply loved and respected. Her girl friends all dressed in white with black sashes formed a procession and marched two by two from her residence to the meeting house—six strong young men followed carrying the casket, next came her Sunday School Class, and mourners and then followed a long train of carriages and vehicles."—from Wasatch Wave.

Children of Fredrick and Alice Sulser:

Twins: Karl and Parley. Karl survived. Parley died in infancy.

Anna Elfreda Jaspersen and her family moved to Heber City in 1877.

She attended public school in Heber, and the BYC at Provo. She taught school at Vernal, Center Creek, Heber and Hailstone.

She often drove from Heber to her school by horse and buggy. She had a most appealing contralto voice. This talent put her in great demand at funerals, choir work and programs.

She married Fredrick Remund, Jr., October 25, 1905. She moved to Midway at that time and still resides there.

She was president of Midway First Ward Primary for ten years. Also served as officer and teacher in YLMIA, Sunday School and Relief Society. She was active in dramatic and choir groups. She served as a member on several Stake Boards for the Church. She was an outstanding teacher.

Children of Fredrick and Anna Elfreda Remund:

Ralph, married Anna Yates;

Clive, married Lucille Johansen;

Mrs. John L. (Grace) Owen;

George, married Cynthia Schear;

Mrs. Lloyd K. (Carol) Schlapp;

Grant, married Iva Don Shumway.
